

Following a call from a resident, it was brought to the councils attention how nature can play its hand very quickly.

As more people take their daily exercise during the Covid crisis, Brooker Farm was asked to deal with the problem.

